

FACTS	WHAT DOES AMERICAN AUTO LOANS DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?
Why?	Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.
What?	The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include: Social Security number and income account balances and payment history credit history and credit scores
How?	All financial companies need to share customers' information to run their everyday business—to process transactions, maintain customer accounts, and report to credit bureaus. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons AMERICAN AUTO LOANS chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.
Sharing	"We share information for our everyday business purposes—such as process your transactions, maintain your account(s), respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus "
To limit our sharing	If you are a new customer, we can begin sharing information 30 days from the date you receive this notice. When you are no longer our customer, we may continue to share your information as described in this notice. However, you can contact us at any time to limit our sharing and to restrict telemarketing, direct marketing postal mail and email solicitations.
